Former state trooper charged with five separate counts of assault on two women

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

A former Mississippi Highway Patrol officer was briefly booked in at the Hancock County Detention Center last week on assault charges.

Dale Decamp Jr., 48, of Bay St. Louis, a retired MHP master sergeant, turned himself in last Thursday and was quickly released on his own recognizance on five separate counts of simple assault — causing bodily injury, jail records show.

According to Hancock County Circuit Court Affidavits, “On or about May 20, 2020, Dale Decamp did attempt to cause or purtiposely, knowingly or recklessly did bodily injury to (a Hancock Justice Court clerk) and/or did attempt by physical menace to put (her) in fear of imminent serious bodily harm by pulling her hair from behind her head, causing her neck to extend backwards.”

According to witness statements, the woman responded “what the hell” and Decamp responded “you know that’s how you like it.” Another woman in the office at the time warned

Decamp to not “ever touch her like that again .. you do not need to be touching anyone in here like that.”

Then, around Dec. 1, 2020, Decamp “did attempt to cause ... or recklessly did cause bodily injury (to the same woman) and/or did attempt by physical

No injuries were reported on Friday afternoon after a First Student bus carrying North Bay Elementary students collided with another vehicle on Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis at the Dunbar Avenue intersection. School officials said Friday that the accident occurred when another vehicle turned at the intersection in front of the school bus. Bay-Waveland School District Superintendent Dr. Sandra Reed alerted parents of students in the district of the accident a few minutes after it occurred, assuring them that no student was injured.

Waveland awards bid for repairs to Veterans Memorial

BY CASSANDRA FAYRE

Last week, the Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen awarded the bid for repairs to the Veterans Memorial to DNA Underground, LLC.

The total amount of the contract is $237,442 for the base bid with alternate 1 and 2. However, the city plans to deduct some line items via change orders, which will bring the total close to $146,775.02

The city received about $56,085.06 in FEMA funds for the repairs, city comptroller Kim Boushie said, and the remaining repair costs will be paid from the city’s reserve account.

In a separate matter, the board discussed setting the city clerk’s annual salary at $70,000, retroactive to Jan. 3.

Ward 2 Bobby Richardson requested the item be moved from the consent agenda for discussion.

“During the budget for this year, we fought and fought with the balance of the budget, we laid three people off,” he said. “We asked the fire chief, police chief and we were given a certain raise and we had to drop them back a little bit to try and make our budget balance. I’m not sure what the prior city clerk was making. I guess what I’m saying, to jump the prior city clerk salary that much, when we

PEOPLE & PLACES TO GET TO KNOW

You should get to know Adam Cimino and Field’s

Editor’s note: This is the first installment of an occasional series taking a look at some of the interesting people and places around Hancock County.

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

I’ve been doing this a long time, but I still love my job, mostly because I’m constantly getting to meet new people and experience new things. For instance, at a business dinner last week, I met Adam Cimino at Field’s Steak & Oyster Bar in Old Town Bay St. Louis last week.

Adam is a Rhode Island-native and an avid traveler, but now lives and works in Bay St. Louis because he loves it here.

“I’ve been all over the world, pretty much,” he said, including — literally — Timbuktu, in west Africa.

But, he said, “my brother came to Bay St. Louis first. He came back home with photos, he’s standing in a boat, fishing, wearing a t-shirt in the middle of January. I’m looking around at all the snow on the ground (back home in Rhode Island), thinking, ‘I’ve got to get to Bay St. Louis.’”

And he’s been here ever since.

Adam led us through the menu at Field’s like the experienced traveler he is, starting us off with two platters of oysters, one char-grilled, the other Rockefeller-style. I was a bit skeptical, having had a bad oyster experience once (if it’s happened to you, you know), but I couldn’t get enough of them.

Then, we each had the lobster bisque, which was — again — incredible.

Our party of five truly became a party, with Adam cracking us up and serving us plate after plate of mouth-watering food.

In the accompanying photo, Adam’s serving me the “Gulf Catch,” which happened to be swordfish that night, but that was actually someone else’s plate — I had already dived into my filet and devoured half of it before someone brought the camera out. Seriously, it was the best I’ve ever had.

The swordfish was served with collard rice, remoulade and blackened lump crab, with lobster risotto.

Another member of our party had the seafood mac & cheese, with royal red shrimp, crab, sauce mornay, grated parmesan and cavatappi pasta.

And of course, the libations flowed liberally, but I abstained, since I had to drive afterward.

Field’s offered truly the finest of fine dining.

Chef Field Nicaud’s name has become synonymous with outstanding food on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. He and Jordan Nicaud also started another Field’s in Biloxi after the Bay St. Louis restaurant took off. The Nicaud family also owns

Flag Retirement Program

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service. Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display. We strive to see that each veteran being cremated has a flag. There is no charge for this service to our veterans.

According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Necaise Avenue and Main Street.

First ‘Taste of Hancock County’ a huge success

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

In Hancock County, it’s all about good taste.

“Thank you, thank you and thank you!” Hancock Tourism Bureau Board President Rachel Knight said on social media last week after the hugely successful first annual “Taste of Hancock County” event. “Thank you to everyone in Hancock County that showed up and showed out, you guys rocked it! We have the best people and the best food here in Hancock County!”

The event offered patrons the opportunity to sample different cuisines from restaurants throughout Hancock County, for one low price.

Knight said the event is more than just a fundraiser for the Hancock Tourism Bureau — it’s a celebration of Hancock County culture and cuisine.

“We had a huge turnout,” Tourism Bureau Executive Director Myrna Green said last week, “and everyone really seemed to enjoy themselves. Next year’s celebration will be even bigger and better.”

The municipalities of Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Diamondhead and Hancock County all sponsored the event, Knight said, in addition to dozens of Hancock County-area restaurants and other businesses.

In addition to the food, the event featured silent and live auctions, raffles and entertainment by DJ Carlos Estrella.

While it was an important fundraiser for the Hancock County Tourism Bureau, Knight said, it was also “one more way for us to get the community together.”

He also covered topics such as social media safety, informed voting, and qualifications for candidacy for public office. During his time, he spoke about the importance of young adults getting involved in their communities, and he encouraged students to consider serving the public in the future.

MS House Weekly Summary - Week of Jan. 16

This is the third week of the 2023 Legislative Session. The deadline for introducing general bills and constitutional amendments was on Monday night, and committees will now begin discussing these bills in meetings. Although most work is still happening in committees, several pieces of legislation reached the House floor this week.

House Bill 1125, or the Regulate Experimental Adolescent Procedures (REAP) Act, would regulate transgender procedures and surgeries on children under 18. The bill does not apply to individuals born intersex. Proponents of the bill said that this would prevent children from making permanent decisions they could regret later, while opponents argued that this was a step back for transgender rights. After lengthy debate, the bill passed by a vote of 78-28 and has been sent to the Senate for consideration.

Other bills discussed this week include a bill that would exclude fentanyl testing materials from definition of “paraphernalia” under controlled substances (HB 722); a bill that would decrease the minimum number of years of law enforcement experience required to be a conservation officer (HB 516); a bill that would authorize the Department of Finance and Administration to purchase the old First Christian Church building in the Capitol Complex Improvement District (HB 423); and a bill that would designate the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks Central Office as the Sam G. Polles State Office Building (HB 366).

On Thursday, the House was visited by the Louisville High School Football Team. Coach Tyrone Shorter and the team were honored with House Resolution 16, which commends them upon winning the 2022 MHSAA Class 4A State Championship.

Next week, committees will meet even more frequently as the Legislature approaches the next deadline. After Tuesday, Jan. 31, no additional bills will be added to the House calendar for consideration, and members will meet in session for longer periods to discuss the bills that have made it out of committees.

Hancock History: The Commercial Port of New Orleans (1865-2023)

The economic history of Hancock County includes mention of the positive monetary influence that the port of New Orleans had on the profit and employment business opportunities of our county residents over the last three hundred years. A previous article reported on the antebellum history of the commercial port of New Orleans. Fortunately, the surrender of the city to the Yankees in 1862 did not result in the destruction of the economy of this port.

After the Civil War, the silting problem at the mouth of the Mississippi River did threaten to prevent reinvigoration of maritime trade. Nevertheless, an Army engineer, Captain James Eads, devised a system of parallel jetties at South Pass at the mouth of the Mississippi River that created greatly increased flow of water; therefore, scouring out the silt/sediment. Ocean-going ships with deep hulls now had forty- five feet of depth clearance. These “Ead’s Jetties” were completed in 1879 and worked perfectly.

In the late 1800’s New Orleans invested in the necessary railroad infrastructure to connect the national freight train network to the local overseas wharves. This accomplished seamless transshipment of the nation’s cargo to ports all over the world. In 1896 the Louisiana State Legislature created a Port of New Orleans agency called the “Dock Board.” It was governed by a Board of Commissioners and continues to this day to successfully administer the harbor and regulate traffic and trade. The Dock Board helped form the New Orleans Public Belt Railroad which smoothly manages the flow of six freight train companies in the port. In 1923 the Dock Board dug an Industrial Canal connecting the Mississippi River to Lake Pontchartrain. This canal is reminiscent of the Old Basin Canal built in 1790 by the Spanish Governor Carondelet that connected Lake Pontchartrain to the back of the French Quarter, facilitating shipping of schooners and sloops from Hancock County and the Gulf Coast.

In 1949 the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers completed the Gulf Coast Intracoastal Waterway providing a navigable inland canal designed primarily for barge traffic. The Harvey Canal connects the eastern port of New Orleans to the Intercoastal Waterway going west. The Intercoastal Waterway extends from Texas to Florida and continues up the Eastern Seaboard. The waterway extends through eastern New Orleans and connects to the Mississippi River through the Industrial Canal.

FOR THE PEOPLE

Guest Column
By Jan and David
Sauer of Waveland

Open Letter to Congressman Mike Ezell,
Congratulations on being newly sworn in as our Representative to the Congress. While we are sure you are busy with making all the new arrangements needed to set up an office, and hire staff, I’d like to make a few suggestions for your future consideration.

LISTEN to your constituents. We’ve been deprived of Congressional leadership in this district because your predecessor ignored us. From the beginning, we remember attending open forum held by the League of Women Voters for candidates, but he never appeared at such a meeting. It would be great if you could hold a town hall meeting in each of the counties at least once in your two year term. We do not expect you to have all the answers, but it would be wonderful if you could just listen to the concerns of the people and agree to look into the issues they raise.

INSURANCE. Here in Waveland one candidate for Mayor, Micah Tinkler, campaigned on the coming substantial increases in insurance due to being near the water. Already my own son in New Orleans has seen his home insurance bill more than double—though he does not live in an area that flooded, even in Katrina. The same is apparently coming to Mississippi. It would be welcome if you could work on capping whopping increases like this. My neighbor, a Trump supporter, suggested to me a few years ago that FEMA should be much expanded because disasters hit everywhere in the country—right now flooding in California is unprecedented—but there is no region that is safe from tornadoes or forest fires or other kinds of natural disasters. Nationwide Disaster Insurance would equalize the costs and benefits for all citizens. We still remember former Congressman Gene Taylor denouncing double-dealing insurance companies after Katrina hit our district.

POLICING. In Hancock County in the last two and a half years we have lost three police officers to mentally unstable killers. Something must be done to address the issues of mental illness and policing. I’m sure police are well-trained to deal with criminals, but dealing with mental illness requires a much different set of skills. And clearly we need a better system of coordination, some expansion of RED FLAG ALERTS. I’ve heard the same woman who killed two officers last month here was, earlier in the day, stopped in Ocean Springs for some offense. Warnings about the mentally unstable need to be shared across all neighboring districts. Letting such people have access to firearms puts all citizens in jeopardy, especially the police.

MEDICAID EXPANSION. It seems crazy that the Federal Government will pay 90% of Medicaid expansion, and yet Mississippi has yet to apply for these funds. As the cartoon of the Sea Coast Echo last month reminded us, this is just shortsighted. Anything you could do to help the state along towards inclusion would be a gain for all our citizens.

Bay men charged with stealing $14K worth of items at Pass storage facility

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Two Bay St. Louis men have been arrested after allegedly breaking into a commercial storage facility in Pass Christian and taking more than $14,000 worth of stored possessions.
Marlon Jackson Jr., 47, and Charles Parker, 43, were charged with seven counts of commercial burglary each and transported to the Harrison County Jail. Harrison County’s Judge Diane Ladner and Judge Brandon Ladner set bond for the two men at $140,000 each.

According to a press release from the Pass Christian Police Department, officers responded to reports of burglaries at the storage facility on Dec. 10.
“On Dec. 13, after thorough analysis,” Parker was “established as a suspect, and arrest warrants were secured through Harrison County Justice Court,” according to the release.
Officers of the Pearl River Police Department in Louisiana took Parker into custody on Jan. 13, according to the release.

“On Jan. 17, arrest warrants were secured for ... Jackson through Harrison County Justice Court,” the release said.

Decamp is also accused of assaulting the

He also allegedly “acted as if he was going to tase (the woman) by putting his hand on his taser which was attached to his duty belt, thereby placing (her) in fear of imminent serious bodily injury by being ‘tased.’” Decamp is accused of assaulting another woman on Jan. 4, 2021, “by hitting her in the forehead with his hand,” affidavits say, and again on Jan. 28, 2021, “did attempt by physical menace” to put her “in fear of imminent serious bodily harm by inserting his finger between her buttocks and pulling her hair and jerking her head around.”

He is also accused of grabbing that woman’s hoodie and pulling it over her face on Dec. 1, 2020.
Circuit Judge Lawrence Bourgeois determined there was enough evidence to issue the warrants.
An initial trial date has not yet been scheduled.

Coping With Uncertainty

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

One of the most certain realities of life is uncertainty. We have all experienced it. Things happen in our lives which surprise us, amaze us, encourage us, and sometimes disappoint or devastate us.

In recent memory, we have experienced a worldwide pandemic which claimed thousands of lives and disrupted expectations and economic stability. We have witnessed horrible mass shootings in public places, including schools, which have impacted multiple families. Just a few weeks ago many of us watched in horror and disbelief as a young football player almost died on the field after a seemingly routine play. In addition, we have continued to experience the more common, yet profoundly typical moments of life, death, accidents, illnesses, along with unanticipated times of joy and blessing. As someone declared, with a bit of gallows humor, “If you want to make God laugh, just tell him your

In the face of these, sometimes unsettling realities, an inevitable question emerges. “Where and how does spirituality fit into all this?” Of course, we pray. Many of us, this writer included, have offered many prayers. We have asked for guidance. We have prayed for individuals. We have sought solutions to perplexing circumstances. Sometimes we have despaired, and at other times we have rejoiced when things take a turn for the better, as seems to be the case with the young football player.

All of this points to the biggest issues of all. What is the nature of God? What do we expect from that deity in which many of us believe?

Are prayers for outcomes appropriate, or are there other ways to consider the mysteries which confront us and challenge our lives?

Dr. Carlyle Marney was a pastor, teacher, and a profoundly thoughtful commentator on matters of theology and the spiritual life. He passed away in the 1970’s, almost 50 years ago. He once commented that prayer does not so much change God as it does us. The task of the faithful is not to convince God, but it is to convince ourselves to enter into lives of trust. This is a much more complex issue.

To respond to the first of the questions raised above, the nature of God is love. Regardless of an individual theological perspective, there is nothing in biblical literature or faith tradition which is more true than this. We are all the objects and recipients of divine love. Creation itself is a gift of love. Although people often fall short of the intent of deity, the response comes as grace.

Dr. Marney once reminded us that it is true that we are partners with God, but we are “junior partners”.

We have a role, but it is a role which functions in the midst of divine truth. Planning is a critical part of human reality, but plans are always contingent upon factors which are beyond our control. We work, but we work in the context of trust, and we live with hope. For that hope we can be thankful.

kitty CORNER

This lovely lady, Star, is a more mature gal at 8 years of age. She is very shy, and spends most of the day napping in one of the kitty condos in our Cat Adoption Room. She would make a sweet companion for a single person or couple without other pets. A home with older children is preferred, as she may be spooked by the natural rambunctiousness of small kids. If you are looking for a quiet baby who will keep you company and give lots of love, please consider visiting Star in our Cat Room at the Hancock County Animal Shelter.

HELP! The Shelter is overrun with kitties! Every color, every kind! Please come and adopt!

Meet Motley!

The kind lady who found this adorable boy roaming her neighborhood sensed that he was abandoned, as no one recognized him after an exhaustive campaign to reunite him with his owner. He also had the tell tale indentation in his fur indicating that he wore a collar recently. In addition, Motley responded to basic commands, (sit, lay down), and walked great on a leash. We have also observed that he is very well trained, responds easily to commands, and is eager to please. This smart pup is approximately 12 months old, and is at the perfect age to learn even more from his true forever family! While in temporary care, Motley was great with the family's 5 year old child, as well as with their older dog and cat. He is described as being sweet, loving and playful. If you're looking for an activity buddy, then Motley fits the bill. We have also learned that he loves going for car rides, and is a well behaved passenger...as long as he gets to ride shotgun, that is! If you are interested in meeting Motley, please stop by the shelter during our visiting hours, Mon, Wed-Fri 10am-3:30pm or Tues 1pm-3:20pm. Or, you may call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule a meet-n-greet. Please bring your kids and dog(s) along for the visit to ensure compatibility.

Breath’s Boats & Motors Named to 2022 Boating Industry Top 100 list

SEA COAST ECHO

Minneapolis, Minn. – Breath’s Boats & Motors has been named one of the Top 100 Awards: Top Dealers in North America by Boating Industry, the leading trade publication for the marine industry.

The recreational boating industry’s elite members celebrated the launch of the reimagined Boating Industry Top 100 Awards during a black-tie gala on Nov. 16, 2022, on the final evening of the Boating Industry ELEVATE SUMMIT in Orlando, Fla.

Entering the 18th year of the Top 100 in 2022, the program now honors the best of the best across the entire boating industry, celebrating the 40 Under 40, Women Making Waves and the Top Dealers across North America.

As a continuation of the original roots of the Top 100 program, Boating Industry honored the 2022 Top Dealers during the Top 100 Awards celebration.

“This year’s Top Dealers program brought on a stack of new applicants and new competition to the program along with very strong returns from multi-year winners. And we’re very excited to highlight the accomplishments of all, as new dealers join the ranks and others join forces to become one,” Boating Industry editor-in-chief and Top 100 program director Adam Quandt said.

The Top 100 is the only independent ranking of boat dealers in North America. The list recognizes dealerships that are unsurpassed in business operations, professionalism, marketing tactics, customer service and more. The Boating Industry Top 100 has recognized the top dealers in North America every year since 2005.

laid people off and we still have people such as operators that are not at operator pay yet.”

Boushie said the current budgeted salary for the city clerk is $62,400.

Waveland Mayor Jay Trapani said that he feels “we have a more qualified individual that’s certified as a city clerk.”

In 2018, Planchard retired after 22 years with the city.

Ward 3 Alderman Shane LaFontaine asked for a description of the city clerk’s responsibilities as far as city finances, budgets, etc.

“The city clerk will be responsible for all finances,” he said. “Everybody in the city who collects money will go through the city clerk and she’ll be responsible for that. She’ll also be responsible for working with the comptroller on the budget for next year. The qualifications are there.”

Ward 1 Alderman Rhonda Aime-Gamble added that Planchard has an accounting degree.

Richardson said he didn’t doubt Planchard’s qualifications.

City attorney Ronnie Artigues said that if the board sets the salary now for the city clerk position, then it will be that salary for the remainder of their four-year term.

The board voted three-to-one to approve the city clerk’s annual salary with Aime-Gamble, LaFontaine, and Ward 4 Alderman Jeremy Clark voting “yes.” Richardson voted “no.”

In other action:

The board spread on the minutes the mayor and aldermen’s appointments to the Civil Service Commission:

Mayoral appointment: Mark Blanchard

Ward 1 appointment: Elizabeth Stahler

Ward 2 appointment: Cami Cornfoot

Ward 3 appointment: Buddy Borne

Ward 4 appointment: Sean Sullivan

The board approved the removal of former Mayor Mike Smith and former Ward 1 Alderman Jeremy Burke from the Hancock County Solid Waste Authority. They will be replaced with Trapani and Aime-Gamble.

The next meeting is scheduled for Feb. 7 at 6:30 p.m.

try of Hancock County, who said she would be in contact with the Police Chief Toby Schwartz and the fallen officers’ families soon to discuss the details.

“It’s sad, but it is the right thing to honor our brave officers,” Warner said. “We will want to honor our fallen heroes.”

Last year, the group dedicated an oak tree to fallen Hancock Sheriff’s Lt. Michael Boutte.

Robin and Estorffe were responding to a welfare call at Motel 6 last month when they were fatally shot and killed.

Since then, there has been out pouring of love and attention towards the two men’s families.

Mayor Mike Favre said he thinks honoring the officers is a “tremendous” idea.

“It’s a great gesture to the city and the families,” Councilman Kyle Lewis said. “So many people have reached out after this tragedy, this is another example of that outpouring.”

Playoffs begin in soccer, hoops head into final weeks

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The high school soccer regular season ended last Tuesday and the state playoffs began in earnest on Saturday. The basketball regular season entered the final three weeks of the season before the respective division tournaments.

BASKETBALL

The Bay High Tigers split a pair of games against Harrison Central last week with the Lady Tigers claiming a 29-27 victory while the Tigers fell to the Red Rebels 57-37. In the girls game, Kiara Burney scored 12 points to lead Bay High. Jaden Clark scored 17 points in the loss to the Red Rebels in the boys game.

The Tigers swept a pair of Division 8-4A games with Greene County on Friday evening with the Lady Tigers (14-9, 4-1) claiming a 41-34 victory and the Tigers (11-12, 3-2) winning 44-36. Burney again scored 12 points in the win while Clark tallied 18 points in the Tigers' win.

The Hancock Hawks split a pair of games with Biloxi on Tuesday and swept Stone on Friday. The #1-ranked Lady Hawks (24-1, 4-1) beat Biloxi 38-30 as Riley Bishop led the charge with 15 points in the win. The Hawks fell 65-29 and scoring details were unavailable. Against Stone, the Lady Hawks put on a defensive clinic winning 54-9 as Bishop scored 13 points in the win. The Hawks (12-13, 0-5) went to overtime to beat the Tomcats 56-50.

The Pass Christian Pirates swept Stone on Tuesday with the Lady Pirates (16-7, 6-0) winning 59-25 and the Pirates claiming a 75-43 victory. On Friday, the Pirates (17-7, 5-1) fell 57-47 while the Lady Pirates won 46-20.

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws stumbled in the second half in a Division 8-3A game with St. Patrick.

The Rocks (7-14, 2-5) let the Irish jump out to a 11-3 lead in the first period but cut the deficit to 26-24 by intermission. In the second half, the Rocks allowed the Irish to pull away again but were unable to cut the deficit a second time.

Saint Stanislaus head coach Daniel Grieves commented, "We let them get away from us early on but the important thing is we had a pretty good performance on offense. We got the shots we were looking for but we just didn't put them in the basket. I am proud of the effort by the players to work for the best shot but we have to get them to fall when we do that."

Paxton DeBardeleben and Allen Gilliam each scored 10 points to lead SSC followed by Spencer Cornell with 9 points. DeBardeleben added 5 rebounds, 4 steals, and 2 assists to round out his stat line. Ryan Roth led St. Patrick with 17 points followed by Erik Davis and Bo Miller with 13 points each.

Our Lady Academy (1-15, 1-5) dropped their game with St. Patrick 53-7.

Shore Thing: A Wintery Mix

Shore Thing Fishing Report

BY CPT. SONNY SCHINDLER

It has been a typical south Mississippi winter... As most of our locals know, the winter weather down here is all over the place. We can have a freeze warning Monday and be back in shorts n flip flops by Wednesday. It's nice to not have to deal with chilly weather for weeks at a time, but the changing conditions make for challenging fishing conditions.

This time of year, we take whatever we can get. Much like our weather, our fish seem to be all over the place. We can fish the same spots a couple times a week, and catch different species each visit. This isn't a bad thing, personally I enjoy the variety.

The temperature, salinity and tides are gonna be more favorable for different species. Unless you figure out how to control the weather, you just need to roll with it. The speckled trout are very sensitive to these changing conditions, and you'll go bonkers trying to chase those suckers. Don't get me wrong, I'm always thrilled to speckled trout during the winter. However, if you're looking for a tasty, easy to catch winter meal, you owe it to yourself to try sheepshead. Another fish that seems to be everywhere, are theses delicious freshwater catfish. I'm pretty sure I haven't had a trip since late November where we didn't see at least one. We have been seeing them in Bay St Louis, Lake Borgne, Bayou Caddy and all over the Louisiana Marsh.

The redfish have been the most consistent species, but just when you an area holding fish, a big front blows through and seems to move them to another area.

The weather is tricky, the fish are scattered, making for some challenging fishing. None of this should stop you from enjoying a day on the water, when conditions allow. Get out there and enjoy our incredible outdoors. Freezing temps or warm temps, redfish or catfish, it's just our Mississippi Gulf Coast version of a "Wintery Mix".

As always, have fun and be safe.

Hancock County Library System to Present FAN FEST in April

SEA COAST ECHO

The Hancock County Library System will present a newly refreshed and rebranded expo event in the spring of 2023. The updated public event, newly dubbed FAN FEST, will present a wide range of activities with a focus on pop culture, Fandom, video and tabletop gaming, cosplay and costumes, comics and manga, toys and collectibles, action heroes, science fiction, and curiosity seekers.

FAN FEST will be a day-long expo that will be held Sunday, April 23, 2023, from 10 AM to 5:30 PM at the Bay St. Louis Community Hall on Blaise Avenue. Panelists and presenters, plus featured exhibitors and vendors will represent the Gulf Coast region from New Orleans to Mobile. The event will be open to the public and there will be no charge for admission. The HCLS FAN FEST event will also be family friendly and will feature special sections dedicated children, Teens and “Tweens.”

Hancock County Library System executive director, John Brdecka stated the library’s hope for area residents to “Hold the Date for April 23” for the return of the event which saw five consecutive years of increased attendance from 2015 through 2019.

FAN FEST is also promoting a “Call to Artists” to participate in an art contest with the winning designs to be featured on the event t-shirt and other promotional materials. Art categories will include both an adult and a teen winner. Details on the “Call to Artists” can be found on the library system website at: < hcls.info/fan-fest >. Hancock County residents and HCLS library card holders are encouraged to submit original art that is unique and creative – in any style – which reflects elements of pop culture, Fandom, etc. The deadline for art submissions – in electronic format – is January 31, 2023.

Persons interested in helping as a volunteer during the FAN FEST event must complete an online application to make their interest known. The HCLS is seeking both adult and teen volunteers. Opportunities are available to assist with visitor services, staffing information tables, facilitating activities, event set-up, and post event duties.

In addition, the HCLS is accepting proposals from presenters and panelists, taking applications for vendors and exhibitors, and is seeking businesses who are interested in partnering with the library system to become event sponsors. Sponsors receive credit via tax deductions, as well as recognition and extensive publicity in association with the FAN FEST event.

The Hancock County Library System FAN FEST expo event is supported in part with funding from The Library Foundation of Hancock County.
